Thoughts from Pastor

Why do people come to your home, your life events? Usually - not always - but usually it is because you have invited them. You invite them to be a part of your life, your family, your celebrations.

When was the last time you invited someone to church? Isn't God an important part of our lives, and thus our church as well? Isn't Jesus' love worth celebrating and sharing with someone else?

People share with me how they feel loved and cared for at St. James. I am glad to hear that. Don't you think it is something that others might like to experience? People need what we have to offer through Christ.

So Let's Bee Inviting.
